

Iyanifa Ifalola Ogun Ijoma - Linda Wolfe

I have been practicing various healing modalities over a large majority of my life; however, if you want to get technical, I have been doing healing professionally for over the past 25 years. I am an Ifa and Ogun Priest, as well as Reiki II certified. My Priest name is Iyanifa Ifalola Ogun Ijoma. In this practice, I am deeply connected to the sacred Mothers the divine essences of my ancestors, and the plant world. I birth infusions in combination with my connections with the Oracle and all of the Ifa matrixes. The infusions that I create such as candles, healing salts, and other items, are used for helping people heal to their highest capacity. Every combination I create has deep consideration and integrity. From each of the ingredients...to the bases I have been directed by the divine Mother's to use.

I am a licensed Marriage and Family Therapist, Drug and Alcohol Counselor, and Diplomate in Comprehensive Energy Psychology. In my practice, I integrate holistic, with various psychological modalities that help a person focus on his/her own growth and discover true potential. I believe that in order for a person to obtain a healthy state of being, he/she must work on grounding themselves within their life and discover self-actualization! I offer a new group of therapeutic approaches that work with the human energy system and are understood to affect the body/mind interconnection.

I also do healing through regression practices, since I believe we live in the past present, and future, I believe we are able to go to the place where it all began and heal that part of ourselves. I do this by asking your higher self, "What is it that you are ready to release?" We may even need to work on healing the ancestors to clear out ancestral trauma. As an Iyanifa I enjoy helping people transition in their lives through the connection with self and various energy matrices.
